About Amealia Jo

Born in West London, UK, and now based in Florida, Amealia Jo is an open-format DJ, singer-songwriter, pianist and multi-instrumentalist. Classically trained in opera and voice, Amealia Jo began making music at a young age.

That foundation shapes how she builds a set. She draws on her ear for rhythm, harmony and arrangement when performing for club crowds and private events. She has a natural ability to read the room and connect with diverse audiences. Equally comfortable behind the decks and in the recording studio, Amealia Jo produces in Logic Pro and records her own vocals, bringing her experience as a musician into every aspect of her artistry.
